

Most frequently notified infectious diseases with the potential to be transmitted by food or water, 2004-2008

Note: AIG notifications for 2008 can not be compared to previous years as from May 2008, cases of toxin-producing Clostridium difficile became notifiable under this category