Using information under this licence

- use of any information indicates the user's acceptance of the terms below
- the Food Safety Authority of Ireland (FSAI) grants the user a worldwide, royalty-free, perpetual, non-executive licence to use the information, including for commercial purposes, subject to the terms below.

- If using information from several information providers and multiple attributions are not practical for the product or application, users must use the following attribution statement:

'Contains Irish Public Sector Information licensed by a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0) licence'

It is not necessary from a legal perspective for the attribution to refer to the specific public sector organisation providing the data.

The terms of this licence are important, and if users fail to comply with any of them, the rights granted under this licence, or any similar licence granted by the Information Provider, will end automatically.

Exemptions

- the names, crests, logos or other official symbols of the Food Safety Authority of Ireland

Non-endorsement

This licence does not grant any right to use the information in a way that suggests any official status or that the Food Safety Authority of Ireland endorses any product or other use of the information.

No warranty

The information is licensed 'as is' and the Food Safety Authority of Ireland excludes all representations, warranties, obligations and liabilities in relation to the information to the maximum extent permitted by law.

The Food Safety Authority of Ireland is not liable for any errors or omissions in the information and shall not be liable for any loss, injury or damage of any kind caused by its use. The Food Safety Authority of Ireland does not guarantee the continued supply of the information.
