

This free half-day workshop is targeted at lecturers and staff responsible for the curriculum development of food related courses provided by State-funded Higher Education (HE) and Further Education (FET) institutes.

The workshop will explore the way in which food safety and food law are included in your courses. We will identify how the FSAI can work with you to provide the best up-to-date information and science around food safety and food authenticity.

Educators' Workshop

Does your syllabus deliver for food safety and food law?

THE GIBSON HOTEL,
POINT SQUARE,
DUBLIN 1

FRIDAY, 16TH NOVEMBER, 2018
9:00AM – 2:00PM

Please note:

This workshop is NOT intended for food industry personnel or food training trainers/consultants.

Educators' Workshop

Does your syllabus deliver for food safety and food law?

The Food Safety Authority of Ireland (FSAI) protects consumers by leading a collaborative food safety community to continuously raise food standards and create a culture of excellence.

Graduates from State-funded Higher Education (HE) and Further Education (FET) courses often embark on a career in the food industry or food regulation. The food industry needs graduates who are knowledgeable and skilled in food legislation. All food businesses need to comply with food law and their staff must be trained commensurate with their work activity.

This workshop will assist HE and FET providers in strengthening their curricula by identifying how the FSAI can support them with the provision of up-to-date information around food safety and food authenticity.

The agenda includes an introduction to the FSAI and the work we do. The morning will be opened by our CEO, Dr Pamela Byrne and we will also be joined by Prof. Patrick Wall, a former CEO of the FSAI and now Associate Professor of Public Health in University College Dublin's School of Public Health, Physiotherapy and Population Sciences. The two workshop sessions will provide an opportunity to discuss the priorities for food safety and food law in your courses, and explore the way we can work together to provide the best up-to-date information and science around food safety and food authenticity.

On conclusion of the workshop, participants will have an opportunity to discuss their own unique challenges via an open-floor Q&A session.

TO REGISTER:

Click here for the online registration form

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION:

Email: EducatorsWorkshop@fsai.ie or call: 01 817 1347

For directions and transport options to the Gibson Hotel, click here

THE GIBSON HOTEL, POINT SQUARE, DUBLIN 1
FRIDAY, 16TH NOVEMBER, 2018, 9:00AM – 2:00PM

AGENDA

09:00 Registration & Refreshments

09:30 Introduction and Welcome

Dr Pamela Byrne
CEO,
Food Safety Authority of Ireland

09:45 FSAI: what we do

Ms Eibhlin O'Leary
Training and Compliance Manager,
Food Safety Authority of Ireland

10:00 An academic perspective

Prof. Patrick Wall
Associate Professor of Public Health,
University College Dublin

10:20 Workshop: food safety priorities

11:00 Coffee and meet the team

11:30 Science and food safety

Dr Lisa O'Connor
Chief Specialist, Biological Safety,
Food Safety Authority of Ireland

Dr Clare O'Donovan
Technical Executive, Public Health Nutrition,
Food Safety Authority of Ireland

Regulating the food chain

Ms Gail Carroll
Enforcement Policy Manager,
Food Safety Authority of Ireland

Communication and information – how we can help

Ms Emma Reinhardt
Communications Executive,
Food Safety Authority of Ireland

12:00 Workshop: how can we work together?

12:30 Open floor Q&A

13:00 Lunch

14:00 Close